MORE MONEY INTO BONDS

The average American family "should and must" be investing 25 percent of its income in War Bonds by the end of 1943, Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., said recently in announcing a new "streamlined" bond campaign. "Of the 45 billion dollars still necessary to complete our war financing needs for 1943," Morgenthau said, "at least 18 billion dollars, or almost 25 percent of the national income for the remainder of the year should come from purchases of bonds by individuals. From those workers earning $1,000 to $5,000 net, will have seven-eighths of all the current available individual savings, 25 cents of each dollar is not too much to expect. In fact, they should and must invest more if our goal is to be met."

ICE BOXES FOR CIVILIANS

A total of 239,575 ice-boxes are to be produced in the next three months for civilian use, according to a new order of WPB. Despite limited factory capacities and scarcity of materials, the production rate is expected to reach about 75,000 units a month.

REPLANT FLOODED GARDENS

Victory gardens destroyed by excessive rains should be replanted, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture in urging gardeners to replant with "late," rather than "early," crops. Crops that can still be planted in flooded areas include tomatoes, snap beans, lima beans, beets, swiss chard, summer squash, peppers, eggplant, sweet corn, and sweet potatoes. Cool weather crops such as potatoes, peas, early cabbage, spinach, and lettuce cannot be expected to give satisfactory yields if planted this late in the spring.

July 4th Plans Progress; Headquarters To Open

Volunteers Sought by Committee; Photos of Service Men Needed; Hobby Show to be Held Again

Progress continues on the arrangements for Sarberth's all-day-and-evening celebration of July Fourth and the various committees report an alert community interest in the observance.

Next week the American Legion Auxiliary will mail a special request to the households of local men and women in the Armed Forces requesting the loan of photographs of the absent ones for the patriotic display which will be one of this year's new features.

For the convenience of all

For the convenience of all concerned, a temporary office will be open at Haverford and Forrest Avenue on June 17, 18, and 19, and also on June 24, 25, and 26, from 2:30 to 8 P. M.

All the photographs should be delivered here and the same headquarters will also serve as the place to register entries for the various other exhibits which will be part of the comprehensive program.

Mrs. William Boxman, will again conduct the Hobby Show which proved so successful last year, and in addition will supervise the department of curios and oddities, a new feature.

The display of "antiques" will be a separate division and will feature china, glassware, pottery, jewelry anr other small wares of distinctive beauty, background or origin. The committee points out that space will be too limited to permit of furniture or other large pieces which might otherwise qualify under the "antique" description.

More complete details will be announced next week. Meanwhile those in charge stress the need of active workers, not of money, as the finances will not be a matter of concern if there is a sufficient number of volunteers to do some of the many things preliminary to the affair or to help on the grounds.

It is also requested that all local residents shall act as a Committee of the Whole to spread the news as to what is being attempted and particularly to inform the neighbors who have men and women in the Armed Forces of the Service Gallery which is proposed.

Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller heads the General Committee and Mrs. James A. McCaffrey is the chairman of the committee which is assembling the photographs.

At the outbreak of war, he joined the Embassy staff in Berlin, administering relief funds to destitude British and French nationals, visiting and inspecting prisoners of war and internment camps, etc.

He was interned for five months with the Embassy personnel, eventually returning to the United States by way of Lisbon on the "Drottningholm," June 1, 1942.

On the invitation of the British Council of Churches in late January of this year, Mr. Herman left for England to become acquainted with the British Church situation. He returned to America in April.

O'Donnell Pitches Tidy Win For Boro To Challenge Unbeaten Pen-Mar Sunday

Last year afable, stocky Joe Irvin, the man with the ever present cigar, created a stir in Main Line Baseball League circles by taking over Ardmore's franchise in raidseason and by quickly assembling a pickup team called the Collegians that proved strong enough to gain the post-season playoffs.

Irvin again is the most talked about figure in the league because he's switched his allegiance to the Pen Mar A. C. and has that club at the head of the field. Only one complete card has been played, but Pen-Mar A. C. and has that club has a sure-fire pennant contender by the ease with which it routed a veteran Manoa team, 10-0, in a game limited to seven innings by agreement.

This game originally was slated for Manoa field but inasmuch as the defending champions have not yet secured permission to use Bergdoll Field it was played as the second part of a double-header at 49th Street and Haverford Avenue. Pen-Mar's stock further was given a boost in the twinbill opener when Brookline, Pen-Mar's other victim this season, felled the West Phils impressively to the tune of 7-2.

Pen-Mar will have an opportunity to become the only unbeaten team in the league when it opposes Narberth this Sunday on the former's field. Narberth finally got its season underway last week when it defeated Overbrook, 5-1, at Narberth.

Manoa is slated to entertain Brookline and the West Phils are slated to tangle with Overbrook this week at Narberth.

Manoa clearly showed its lack of practice in its opener but fielded a team that is bound to make trouble later on. Jim Lattanza, who hurled for the Collegians last year, earned the shutout for Pen-Mar, holding the champs to four hits. Pen-Mar collected ten hits off the combined offerings of Walt Cantwell and Bob Allison, veteran Manoa aces, nad after taking a 1-0 lead in the first inning, sewed up the game with a four-run outburst in the second.

MAIN LINE LEAGUE
Standing of the Teams

	Won	Lost	P.C.
Pen-Mar	2	0	1000
Narberth	1	0	1000
Brookline	1	1	.500
Manoa	0	1	.000
Overbrook	0	1	.000
West Phils	0	1	.000

SUNDAY'S SCHEDULE

Narberth vs. Pen Mar, 49th St. and Haverford Ave.; Brookline at Manoa, and West Phils vs. Overbrook at Narberth.

Vince Signorelli, who played with Gladwyne last year, led the Pen-Mar attack with four hits and drove in two runs. Frank Cooney, veteran outfielder home on furlough from the Army, clouted a home run in the sixth and also had a single earlier.

Bill O'Donnell, another former Gladwyneite, made his debut with Narberth and pitched the Borough tossers to a tidy triumph. He kept seven Overbrook hits well spaced and was never in danger as his mates clubbed out a 8-0 lead in the first inning and added single runs in the second and sixth.

Bill Keyser, newcomer in right field, was the only Narberth batter to get two of the eight hits allowed by southpaw Harry Robinson. Third baseman Lebojesh's two hits pased the losers.

Brookline's victory was marked by the return of Milt Vilet, veteran catcher who together with Walt Azpell formed one of the league's most formidable batteries five years ago. Azpell celebrated the occasion by setting down the West Phils with just five hits.

A home run by Jack Werner gave Brookline a 3-0 lead in the first inning and the Hares clinched the game with four additional runs in the second. Second baseman Michaels collected three of Brookline's 11 hits.

NEW DRIVE BEGINS TO RECRUIT PILOTS

500 Aviation Cadets Ages 17-26, Are Needed by U. S. A.

In keeping with the accelerated American air offensives on all fronts and the steady increase in the production of war planes, the Army Air Forces has started a new drive to recruit Aviation Cadets.

Colonel Frederick Schoenfeld, president of the Philadelphia Aviation Cadet Examining Board announced today that orders have been received here for the procurement of 500 cadets from this area in June.

This quota, Colonel Schoenfeld said, will have to be met through direct enlistments for 17-year-old men and voluntary inductions for men 18 to 26, inclusive.

"It can not be emphasized too strongly," Colonel Schoenfeld said, "that this quota must be reached. The need is urgent."

Direct enlistments for Aviation Cadets were curtailed last December when all general enlistments for men 18 to 38 were stopped by President Roosevelt. They were later re-opened on a smaller scale for 17-year-old men and the training was also made available for inductees 18 to 26.

However, the present campaign for recruits is expected to be heavier than any undertaken previously, according to Colonel Schoenfeld.

Applications for Aviation Cadets are accepted in Room 607, Custom House, Philadelphia. Other Aviation Cadet Boards in the Philadelphia Recruiting and Induction District are situated in the Army Recruiting Stations in Wilkes-Barre and Allentown.

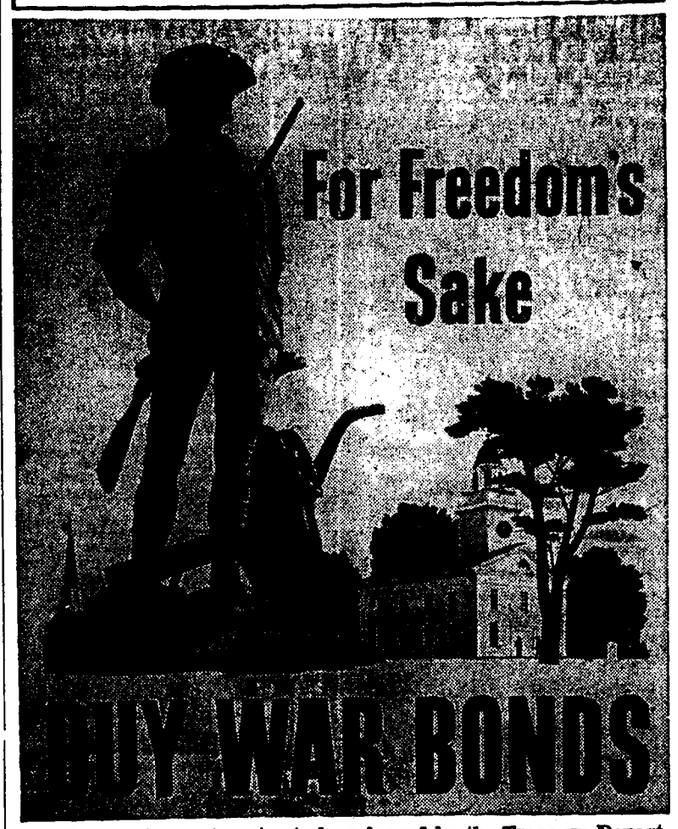
New Poster Features Minute Man



The most recent poster to be released by the Treasury Department is the work of John Atherton, noted painter and illustrator whose earlier "Buy a Share in America" was a prize winner in the New York Museum of Modern Art's poster competition. His latest poster, shown above, depicts Daniel Chester French's famous statue of the Minute Man of Concord and Lexington. Few artists can claim Atherton's distinction in both commercial illustrating and surrealist painting. U. S. Treasury Department

Flower-Laden Snood Highly Picturesque

The snood vogue goes on and on. If you want to blend into the spring and summer landscape of flowers and birds, sunshine and all things lovely, wear one of the picturesque head coverings so frivolously pretty, and you will feel you are going stepping into a world of romance.

There are all sorts of whimsies that go to make up the new fascinators and snoodcaps, such as seashells, glittering crystal beads and fluttery ribbon. Sometimes the flowers, like single daisies, for instance, are scattered all over the big-mesh snood that confines the hair. Then again a cluster of flowers is placed at each side in Chinese fashion. Some prefer a single gardenia monture atop the pompadour, with the rest of the snood left unadorned.

Peasant Fashion

The peasant trend is one of the biggest influences running through summer fashions. Some stores are establishing a special peasant department. Blouses come first, with dirndl skirts and jumpers. Cottons for these skirts include glazed chintz, seersucker, chambray and bright-dyed unbleached muslin. Felt suspenders, belts, caps are all trimmed in gay and intriguing embroidery.

Government Camels; The Army in Africa Will Know Them

In the April 2 issue, 1856, of the Delaware County American published by Cooper and Vernon, in Media, we read this interesting news.

The camels and dromedaries purchased and otherwise procured by Major Wayne and Captain Porter, under the appropriation made for the purpose at the last session of Congress, in Asia Minor, embarked and the vessel would sail with the first fair wind for the United States. The number of animals procured is 33, viz.: Nine male and 15 female dromedaries.

The vessel is expected to arrive at Indianapolis, Texas, about the last of April, at which place they will be lande dand suffered to recruit before being employed for army transportation purposes. Several of the animals are a present from the Viceroy of Egypt to our Government.

CANNING KITCHEN OPEN FOR MAIN LINE

Garden Vegetables May Be Canned Under Supervision

The Emergency Aid Victory Garden and Food Conservation work will be co-ordinated this summer to cope with ration problems and the predicted foodshortage of the coming winter.

The Baldwin School Kitchens which have been turned over to the Main Line Branch will open for the session on July 1st and canning will go on Mondays to Friday from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. daily until August 31.

There are three ways in which people of the communities can take advantage of the Emergency Aid Canning Kitchen:

1. Bring own vegetables to the kitchens and can under the supervision of an expert who will teach them methods and also advise canning program according to the size of their Victory gardens. They may also purchase produce that is plentiful on the market in season and have it canned at the kitchen and learn while they do their own canning.

2. Send vegetables to be canned by the kitchen or to be canned and given to the Emergency Aid Canteen at the United Service Club. If canning is done for a person there will be a small fee charged. If the person does her own canning under supervision and with instructions, she is asked to leave two jars of every dozen put up for the "shelf" which is kept in reserve for the canteen.

3. People who wish to give some War Relief service and have no canning of their own to be done are urged to work in the kitchens as volunteers and learn the methods while they serve.

Registration for training and canning in the Baldwin Kitchen is being taken on and the classes are filing rapidly. Volunteers or canners are urged to register at the Main Line Branch Headquarters and for further information may call Bryn Mawr 2182, at 874 Lancaster Pike, Bryn Mawr.

Mrs. George Milton Jones is head of the whole Emergency Aid Food Conservation project, including Canning and Victory Gardening. Mrs. Thomas C. Barton and Mrs. Samuel Slaymaker are joint chairmen for the Main Line.

SHARE Laundry Service
By holding your laudnry work to a minimum you are helping to share laundry service with a greater number of people. Please do not send any more than you absolutely must.
Much work is being done for Army and Navy men home on short leave which requires 'right of way' handling, so if your laundry is delayed slightly you'll know that you have given a service man the benefit of our laundry service.
To give you the best deliveries possible schedules are being arranged to make your call every other week, so that we may pick up your laundry when we deliver your finished work—thus, we possibly can hold to our very restricted gasoline allowance.

OPA PROSECUTES VIOLATORS

In the four months ended April 30, the courts handed down decisions in 1,495 civil and criminal cases involving 1,676 defendants accused of violating the price and rationing regulations, according to OPA. Of the total 1,437 cases involving 1,613 defendants were decided in favor of OPA. Only 58 cases involving 63 defendants, or less than 4 percent of the total, were dismissed.

MILK ADDED TO RATION LIST

Evaporated and condensed milk are now on the list of rationed foods with a value of one point per pound. Red stamps in War Ration Book Two will be used for buying canned milk and no additional points will be made available to consumers for such purchases. The rationing is intended to conserve limited supplies for infant feeding, special diets, and for persons unable to obtain adequate supplies of fresh milk.

DON'T WRITE "ROUND ROBINS"

Writing soldiers "round robins," or news letters, and inviting composite replies by the group is inadvisable, the War Department has warned. Replies tend to become anthologies of military information, and a custom that arose from innocent motives becomes a security hazard.

SHOE PRICES REGULATED

Shoes, chiefly women's models which are made with such sole materials as plastic, felt, wood, combinations of wool and cotton, cord and friction belting and some other fabric and synthetic substances, are now under ceiling prices. Fabrics used for the uppers include linen, gabardine, faille, "imitation leather," and other types of cloth. Prices set by OPA for manufacturers of these shoes range from around $1.25 to about $4.00 a pair.

BIKES FOR THE EAST

In 16 of the 17 states in the eastern gasoline shortage area, bicycles will be issued without quota restrictions in June, the OPA has announced. In the eastern shortage area where gasoline rations for automobiles have been cut, bicycles are rationed to anyone gainfully employed in any occupation or doing work necessary to the war program or public welfare. Children are also eligible if they need a bicycle for transportation to and from school.

REPORT SHOWS TRAFFIC DROP

Throughout the nation, 479 automatic counters on rural roads in 39 states recorded traffic in April as 36 percent of pre-war normal. Motor-fuel tax collections in 28 states in April totaled $38,209,000 and were three-fourth of pre-war normal, according to reports from State Motor Vehicle Administrators.

Style Notes

A new winsome simplicity has come into fashion.

It's smart to wear your lapel whimsies in pairs.

Victory gardeners like the new rickrack-trimmed denim aprons.

Crisp taffeta ruche is a popular trim for voguish little sailor hats.

Current style trends give prominence to Chinese-inspired fashions.

The wide-brimmed black hat is coming in as an after-Easter favorite.

High styling is given to crochet hats and to smart knitted costumes.

Lavish use of flowers brings romance into the spring and summer fashion picture.

Lacy mitts, lacy hats, boas of net ruffles are among prettily feminine details that add charm to milady's costume.

Prefer Two-Piece Slacks for Summer

For the summer, warplant workers are showing an increasing interest in two-piece jacket slack ensembles rather than one piece overall or coverall types.

The two-piece models are exceedingly attractive in their pretty pastel colors. Plastic buttons in contrast colors impart extra charm. While most of the outfits are in solid color, there is also wide demand for contrasting jackets and slacks.

The entire scheme of things in the way of war-work clothes design revolves around creating apparel from the viewpoint of safety—no fluttery ruffles, or extending pockets, or flaring trouser hems that can catch in machinery.

The sturdiness of denim makes it the favorite material, and gabardine is also favored.

Our Job Is to Save Dollars

By LYTLE HULL

A recent Gallup poll demonstrated that the great majority of union labor is opposed to these crippling strikes, in the war industries, which are doing our cause such incalculable harm. The public didnt' need a Gallup poll to proev that—but they soon will need one if Labor allows these morale-destroying stoppages to continue.

American workers, union and non-union, American farmers, American capitalists, American politicians, American Whites and American Blacks (we can't say American Reds) are each as patriatic and country-loving as the other. But there are men among each group whose aims are purely selfish and to whom America, as a whole, appears to be quite a secondary consideration. In organized labor these men are able to accomplish their purposes as in no other group—for the reason that no other group is so organized that its members can be controlled as a body.

The American public is becoming aroused at the continued stoppages in the war industries. The American public has sons fighting and dying at the front. The American public is beginning to blame all union labor for the stoppages which of necessity arise the death toll among their boys. And this is one of the grave injustices which a few union leaders and a few minority elements are bringing down upon the huge majority of patriotic, country-loving, God-fearing men and women who make up nine-tenths of organized labor. This vast majority have sons in Africa and in the Pacific also—and they are often willing to risk their own lives to break through goonish picket lines which prevent them from getting out the tanks and planes and guns upon which the lives of their sons depend.

Is there no way for a patriotic union worker to work for his country if he wants to? Must he be compelled to stand by and allow a minority to prevent him from performing the sacred duties which he owes his country and his family? Is there no way that he—as a member of a union which has agreed with the United States government to forego strikes while this nation is fighting this frighteinng war—can force his union to live up to this sacred agreement?

Few people even remember the great strike in the German munitions plants in the First World War. But this strike—which was put down almost overnight by gunfire—was the "morale-buster" which started Germany toward defeat and bolstered the wavering confidence of the Allies. These continued strikes here can so undermine our morale and can so bolster the morale of our enemies that we can lose this war.

Do the little minorities who cause these strikes realize this—or do they think the war is over because we have conquered North Africa and few tiny fractions of the vast empires which Japan has taken and is fortifying?

At the beginning of the First World War the Allies' front lines were close to the German borders. Today all Poland and a large part of Russia intervene on the east; and all France, the Mediterranean and the English Channel intervene on the South and West. In the last World War Italy and Japan were on our side—this time they are not. We finally won out against the old style submarine of 1914-1918. Will we against the modern undersea "dreadnaught"? We can—but we won't unless we all put into this struggle everything we've got and forget the big sounding phrases of those who will not face the cold facts.

Dale Carnegie

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

The Lamston stores in New York have found a way to solve an old, old problem: How to induce employees to take more interest in their work.

It is very simple: they turn work into fun.

Here is the method by which they increase the interest of their sales girls by 20 per cent. They have quiz contests for the girls. Each store selects a team, the employees of all the stores meet and the quiz contest begins. There are judges, and there are experts just as on a radio quiz program.

Here are some of the questions used at the last contest:

Question—As long as I know the merchandise on my counter, it is not necessary for me to know the location of merchandise on other counters? Right or wrong?

Answer—Wrong.

Question—What is the difference between full-fashioned hose and seamless hose?

Correct answer — Full-fashioned hose are shaped in the knitting process. Seamless hose are shaped by boarding, or presing.

In selling white shoe polish, which statement of the three following will make the greatest sales appeal?

1. It won't rub off.
2. It costs only ten cents.
3. It comes in cake form.

Correst answer—No. 1.

When pou see a customer take something from the counter without paying for it what should you do, or say?

Correst answer—Say, "May I wrap that for you?"

How can you make a customer want to return?

Correct answer—Let your conversation be in the interest of the customer. Play the customer up; yourself down. Take a real interest in your customer's wants.

Is the following true, or false:

Women are quick buyers.

Answer—False.

There were many more questions; these are only samples. The winners were given two pairs of silk stockings; as also were the girls in the store where the team came from. Do the Lamston girls take more interest in their work? Do they! Why, every girl there is thinking of herself as a winner at the next contest, and is learning everything there is to be known about the stores and the merchandise.

Are you looking for a perfect wife, husband, child, or a perfect employer or a saintly employee? If so, you are headed down a greased chute straight toward a mud lake of disappointment.

For all of us are contradictory combinations of both faults and virtues. Take Christopher Columwas cautious and conservative; bus, for example. Sometimes, he was cautious and conservative. sometimes he acted on impulse and hunches and tossed reason to the waves and tides. He was also combination of truth and deception, a combination of overbrearin: egotism and generosity. At times he was brave and audacious; at times he had a yellow streak. Sometimes he was tactful; sometimes he was so brutal and ill tempered that he aroused hatred and rebellion.

BOY SCOUT CONTESTS TO BE HELD JUNE 11

Neighborhood Rally; Games to Decide Local Champions

The Scout troop championship of Ardmore will be decided (for the time, at least) at the annual Ardmore Neighborhood Scout rally to be held Friday evening, June 11, at the Ardmore Park.

Parents and friends of the Scouts are invited to the affair, which will begin at 7 P. M.

There they will see a knot tying relay, with teams of eight Scouts each comparing their skill in tieing such knots as the square, slip, bowline, clove hitch, figure eight, sheepshank and hitching tie. They will see demonstrations of fire making by flint and steel and by bow and drill, and they will see boys competing in boiling water, with only two matches and the wood they gather for building a fire.

They will see signalling competition by teams of four boys each, busily wig wagging messages, with one boy acting as teller, one as signaller, one as receiver and one as writer. There will also be first aid events, with seven Scouts and one patient forming a team, and demonstrating bandages for the chest, head, elbow, hand, foot, knee and arm. They will watch as the boys compete in raising tents.

The evening's events will close with a campfire, with songs and stunts, and the presentation of awards. Lester Langan, neighborhood commissioner, will be in charge.

'WAR WORK' THEME OF ROUND-TABLE

Nancy Fahnestock of 'Time' Will Address County Federation

The 1943-44 program of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs will be further streamlined to welfare and war work at the Round Table Program Conference to be held at Abington Friends Meeting, Meeting House Rd., Abington, at 10:15 A. M. to noon, Monday, June 14. County department chairmen outlined this plan when they met for the tea last week at the home of the Federation president, Mrs. Richard Pollock.

Mrs. Pollock, who will preside at the half-hour opening meeting of the Conference, will remind the members that the State Federation has asked that all clubs remain in session through the summer and that only program pertaining to the war effort be given. Miss Nancy Fahnestock, of the Philadelphia office of "Time" Magazine will discuss "Time's" program plan for club women, and Miss Rose Cologne, specialist in adult education from the Pennsylvania State College, will consult with the group on how to get the best results from their program.

Following the opening meeting, Mrs. Pollock will meet with the presidents of the 41 clubs in the Federation and each county department chairman will meet with the club chairman of her department. Members will remain for a box lunch and informal discussion, while the Hatboro "Neighbors," the hostess club, serve fruit punch.

Mrs. Edgar Wambold, Red Cross chairman, will ask her group to continue to stress the blood donor and the service kits projects. Mrs. Manning P. Brown, Public Welfare and Nursing chairman, will remind her committee that the government will need 65,000 nurses bp the first of the year and the search by the Federation for recruits must be continued. Mrs. Brown will present Miss Lide Fite, chairman of the Old York Road Family and Health Service, who will address the group.

Mrs. Charles Evoy, International Relations chairman, will announce the continuation of the monthly International Relations lectures at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel, with speakers from countries highlighted by the war. Mrs. Mary McClelland, Gardens and Agriculture chairman, will ask her committee to see that all surplus food in their locality is preserved. She will also suggest that they ask their community to plant fruit and nut trees as an aid in the food shortage, as did the people of France.

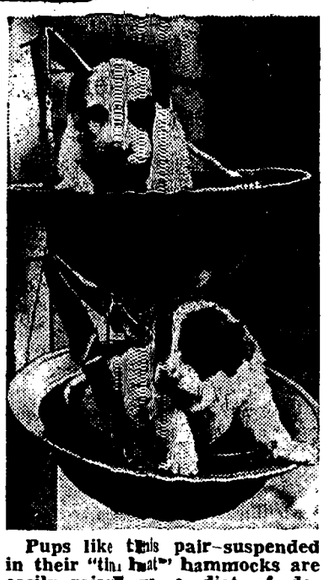
ON THE HOME FRONT

By WILLIAM BRADFORD HUIE
Author of "The Fight for Air Power"

A NEW and sudden problem has come to America—the greatest pet-owning nation of the world—with the rationing of foodstuffs, particularly meats. Good estimates place the dog population of the United States at 15,000,000; consequently, there are some 45,000,000 men, women and children today who are worrying about what Fido and Spot are going to eat.

Word comes from experts in the nutritional field that table scrap feeding, always a dubious means of furnishing the family pet with the best balanced diet, should be abandoned for the duration so that not only will rationed foodstuffs be used by humans, but that pets will get the best possible diet in war time.

These authorities point out that "the dog fed table scraps would be fortunate to have a ration which averaged as high as 18 per cent in total protein, of which a very low proportion would ordinarily be of animal origin." That such a diet is deficient nutritionally is shown by Food Production Order No. 7 where the government sets the total protein maximum for dog foods at 24 per cent; of which one-third, or 8 per cent on a total food basis, can be protein of animal origin.



Pups like this pair—suspended in their "tin hat" hammocks are easily raised on a diet of dehydrated dog food and water and furnish a strong boost to the morale of a home where war has taken away a member of the family.

Table Feeding Unwise

Best dehydrated dog food, manufactured in accordance with this order, contains the maximum amount of protein. And dehydrated food is made from fresh meat by-products, scientifically combined, under Order 7, with wheat, barley, salt, ground bone and fish oil. The food is fortified with vitamins to insure the dog a completely balanced diet. Since it contains only 8 per cent moisture, compared with approximately 70 per cent moisture contained in former canned foods made with similar formulae, water is added to make an appetizing ration that looks like freshly-ground meat.

Dog food is not rationed. In England dog owners share their rations with their pets, but here this is unwise because of the abundance of dog food which makes it possible to spend all ration points for foods for human consumption. Thus table scrap feeding, which does not give the pet the best possible diet, is improvident from the standpoint of using foods that are necessary for best human nutrition and from the economic standpoint as well.

CHILDREN TO SEEK SHELTER ON BLUE

Parents Warned of Blackout Danger by Council

The problem of children on the streets during the red period of Air Raid Drills is a serious one that has been brought to the attention of the Lower Merion Council of Defense in recent weeks.

"Children have been permittd to be on the streets," says Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, executive director of the Defense Council, "and obviously this should not be permitted. Air Raid Wardens will be asked to direct children found on the streets during an alarm to proceed immediately to their homes during the blue period. Children found on the streets during the red period will be directed at once to designated shelters until the 'all clear' signal comes, and parents may be required in such cases to come in person to take them home."

Procedure in regard to children during school hours has been carefully worked out and is a satisfac. But with the coming vacation period, it is the responsibility of parents to see that their children stay in their own homes on the blue signal; or if not in the vicinity of their own homes, children should be instructed to take immediate cover, to keep away from windows and be sure to take shelter in designated safety areas inside buildings so as to avoid the menace of flying glass should enemy action occur.

The blue signal should, in effect, be a "curfew" to all children in this vicinity..

DEFENSE COUNCIL SPONSORS MEETING

Consumers Invited to Discuss Ration Problems With OPA

The Council of Defense of Lower Merion Township in co-operation with the Consumer's Interest Committee, will sponsor a public meeting to be held on Tuesday, June 15, at 8 P. M. at the Women's Club, Ardmore Ave., Ardmore.

This meeting, held at the request of the OPA, will help to clarify questions vital to consumer interest. "The purpose of the meeting," says Dr. Howard Wayne Smith, executive director of the Council of Defense in Lower Merion Township, "is to make clear regulations and necessities for rationing of fuel oil, gasoline and food, especially as they relate to local conditions."

The program for the meeting will include two 15-minute talks by W. L. Blanchet and N. B. Wertman, of the OPA, followed by a question and answer period. Questions pertaining to consumer interest may be submitted before the meeting, and will be answered by the OPA representatives following the meeting, or they may be submitted directly from the floor.

In addition to the OPA representatives, members of the Rationing Board in Ardmore will be on hand to answer questions pertaining to purely local conditions .

The details of the program have been worked out by a Consumer's Committee consisting of Dr. Philip U. Koopman, Assistant Superintendent of Lower Merion Public Schools, chairman; Charles S. Taylor, Berkley Arms, Haverford; Dr. Robert E. Keighton, Narberth Baptist Church, and Dr. Roger C. Stimson, chairman of the Consumer's Interest Committee of Lower Merion Township.

If public interest, as indicated by the attendance on June 15, warrants it, the Council of Defense of Lower Merion Township hopes to make this the first of a series of similar meetings.
